Licensing Agreement with the Society for Technical Communication

1. In consideration of the Society for Technical Communication (STC) agreeing to publish the Contribution defined below, the Authors of articles or columns in Intercom grant to STC the exclusive license during the first six (6) months after the date of the first publication of the Contribution in Intercom and a non-exclusive license thereafter (a) to publish, reproduce, distribute, display, and store the Contribution in all forms, formats, and media whether now known or hereafter developed (including without limitation in print, digital, or electronic form) throughout the world; (b) to translate the Contribution into other languages, and (c) to create adaptations, summaries, or extracts of the Contribution or other derivative works.

2. The parties acknowledge that ownership of the copyright to the Contribution remains with the Authors. Notwithstanding the foregoing, in consideration of STC's publication of the Contribution and incurring the expenses for such publication, the Authors agree:
 - a) not to publish, reproduce, distribute, display or store the Contribution, in whole or in part, during the first six (6) months after the date of the first publication of the Contribution in Intercom; provided, however, the Authors shall have the right to reproduce and distribute the Contribution, in whole or in part, for use by students in a formal classroom setting for educational purposes only; and
 - b) any publication, copy, reproduction or display of the Contribution, in whole or in part, whether during the first six (6) months after the date of the first publication of the Contribution in Intercom or afterwards, must bear or state the following: "First published in Intercom in [volume and number, or year] by the Society for Technical Communication." Failure to include this acknowledgment shall be deemed a material breach of this Licensing Agreement.

3. The Authors warrant and represent that:
 - a) The Authors are the sole authors of and sole owners of the copyright for the Contribution. If the Contribution includes materials of others, the Authors have obtained the permission of the owners of the copyright in all such materials to enable them to grant the rights contained herein.
 - b) All of the facts contained in the Material are true and accurate.
 - c) The Author who has signed this Agreement below has full right, power, and authority to enter into this Agreement on behalf of all of the Authors.

3. The Authors further authorize the Society to edit the Work and to publish the Authors' names, photographs and/or voices, and biographical data in connection with the Society's use and promotion of the Work. When the Work is edited by Society staff, the Authors will be provided with an opportunity to review the edits to the Work.

5. This Agreement will be governed by the laws of the Commonwealth of Virginia (without regard to its conflict of laws principles) and will be binding on, and inure to the benefit of, the Author's(s') heirs and personal representatives and the Society's successors and assigns.

6. The Authors agree to indemnify and hold harmless the Society, its officers, directors, members, employees, and agents from and against any and all claims, actions, losses, demands, costs, attorneys' fees, and all other expenses relating or incidental to, or arising directly or indirectly from, the inaccuracy or breach of any of the Authors' warranties and representations set forth in this Agreement.

The Society hereby requests that the Authors complete and return this form promptly so that the Work may be readied for publication.
